One Year after Graduation

Graduates Elizabeth Barker (left) & Melissa Jones celebrated their one-year anniversary at the Zach Williams & Big Daddy Weave drive-in concert in Albemarle on October 29.

Two years ago, Elizabeth Barker and Melissa Jones entered the Tabitha Ministry residential program, and they graduated together in October 2019. Where are they today?

Melissa is happily married and praising God as He restores her relationships with her three children. Her daughter posted this on Facebook for Melissa's graduation anniversary: "I may not act like it sometimes but i couldn't be prouder of the stronger women and mom you have become. I love you."

Elizabeth was recently promoted at a job she loves. To celebrate her graduation anniversary, she paid a visit to a police officer who showed her kindness while she was lost in addiction. He was delighted by her transformation, stating that they had changed roles: He used to be clean cut while she was the "junkie." Now, she is the one who is clean cut while he looks like the "junkie" as part of his undercover work.

Elizabeth & Melissa give God the glory for their transformation. They are truly walking miracles.
